

In re K. Baker,
BUPL No. UPL 94-13 (1994)

Following investigation and report with recommendations by the Office of Disciplinary Counsel, and consideration by the Board, it was held that a non-lawyer law school graduate who had used the term "Esquire" after her name in correspondence relating to contract negotiations on behalf of her employer was not engaging in the unauthorized practice of law.